Mission

The mission of the City of Salem Police Department is to provide the public with the highest quality of service within our community. We shall act with integrity, honor, and respect while providing equal protection under the law.

Vision

We are a well prepared and highly-trained Police Department capable of providing a variety of valuable services, while safeguarding our community. As a Department, we shall hold ourselves accountable to serve the public daily with integrity, respect, and professionalism.
A Note from Chief of Police
Michael Crawley

Safe in Salem

On behalf of the men and women of the Salem Police Department, I am pleased to present the 2019 Annual Report. This report aims to provide an annual review of the activities of the Department and it also contains statistical crime data and Division accomplishments.

For the last several years we have re-examined our goals, policies and procedures to ensure that the best practices are being exercised. In May of 2019, we achieved National Accreditation and received our award from the Commission on Accreditation of Law Enforcement Agencies (C.A.L.E.A.). I am proud to announce that we join an elite group of Law Enforcement Agencies throughout the United States, Canada, and Mexico that have completed the “Gold Standard” in national accreditation.

I consider the City of Salem a premier community in which to live, raise a family and work. Salem is second to none. With that being said, we still encounter the same negative social issues that hamper cities across the country. This is my official call for all members of the community to band together to take on the quality of life issues such as homelessness, mental illness, and drug addiction that are affecting the City of Salem and it will take each of us to make a difference.

To accomplish our mission, we are actively recruiting noble men and women who are serious about giving back to their community, making a difference and serving among Salem’s finest. It is important to our Officers to truly care about our community and to understand what it means to serve unselfishly and to serve with pride.

It is truly an honor to serve the citizens of the City of Salem. I look forward to another positive year in the Department and in the City.

Sincerely,

Mike Crawley
Chief of Police

On May 4, 2019, the Salem Police Department was officially accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement (CALEA) in Huntsville, AL. In order to receive this national accreditation the department had to demonstrate compliance with over 180 CALEA standards. By participating in the CALEA process, we believe we have improved the quality of the services provided to our community, according to Chief Mike Crawley. Also with accreditation comes higher level of scrutiny and accountability not only to ourselves but to the citizens we serve.

Sergeant Todd Cheyney serves as the Accreditation Manager for the Salem Police Department. Chief Crawley states CALEA is considered the “Gold Standard for public safety” and Sgt. Cheyney has done a great job in helping the department achieve this goal. The department will move into CALEA’s four year Accreditation cycle that includes four annual remote, web based file reviews and a site based assessment in the fourth year.

Senior Police Officer David “DD” Wood retires after 27 years and 6 months of service with the Department.

Population Served

(Based on US Census 2018 estimated data)

Salem was founded in 1802, and the first charter was granted in 1806 to "The Town of Salem in the County of Botetourt." The present charter was granted by the General Assembly in 1968, upon petition of the now City of Salem, to reflect the necessary change since Salem has become a City. The City owns and operates its water system, electric distribution system, and sewer system. The rates for these services compare favorably with the surrounding localities and the Commonwealth as a whole.

Situated in the Shenandoah Valley between the Allegheny and Blue Ridge Mountains on the Roanoke River, Salem possesses all the beauty and grandeur that nature can bestow.

It is designed to give these personnel the necessary training to enable them to fully utilize the expertise of the Department of Forensic Science (DFS). The nine week school provides classroom instruction by qualified forensic experts and numerous practical exercises and evidence collection demonstrations.

The Salem Police Officer of the Year for 2019 earned the respect of his peers and the Department’s annual honor for being in the right place at the right time on two separate occasions.

“A big part of being a good patrol officer is having a sense of calmness,” he says. “A lot of what we do is surrounded by negativity, so if we can keep things as calm as possible and shine a positive light on things, I think it really helps.”

Webb joined the Salem Police Department in November of 2015. Before coming to Salem, he worked for the Western Virginia Regional Jail and the Botetourt County Sheriff’s Office. Webb also volunteered his time with Roanoke County Fire and Rescue.

“Senior Officer Webb is a very humble and quiet person, who not only strives to do well at work, but someone who also works hard at being a good family man,” says Mike Crawley, Salem Police Chief. “He really understands the concept of being a ‘guardian of the city’ and he has done a great job of demonstrating our philosophy of polite and professional policing initiatives.”

Webb has been instrumental in training new officers for the patrol division in his role as Field-Training Officer.

“Identifying and improving any weakness in a positive way is critical to becoming a good officer,” says Webb. “You want to help them grow and also let them know the mentality you need to have in order to make a positive impact on society.”
